

Junior Corporate Hedging Manager – German Speaker – Frankfurt, Germany

Do you have strong analytical skills and want to work in an international environment, dealing with business clients? Do you want to become an expert in Foreign Exchange (FX) markets? Join Western Union as a Junior Corporate Hedging Manager.

Motivated by our values: purpose driven, globally minded, and trustworthy & respectful

We're a FinTech that's using insight from customers and colleagues worldwide to improve financial services for families, small businesses, multinational corporations, and non-profit organizations. We're a team of over 10,000 people spanning 200 countries and territories. We believe when money moves, better things happen.

Relentless pursuit of better

As a member of Western Union's corporate hedging team, you will become an expert in advising business clients on their FX risk management strategies as well as the related financial products offered by Western Union. You will work closely with Client Account Managers to ensure the clients get the best value and most appropriate FX risk management advice. Your role will entail a fair amount of research, market insights, option pricing and much more. Full training will be given.

Ideally, we would like you to bring some knowledge in relation to Foreign Exchange / Hedging, but this is not absolutely necessary. You need to be motivated and confident with the ability to learn fast and to work effectively in a dynamic team environment. You have an eye for detail and can follow direct instructions. German to mother tongue standard, and good command of English is a must.

Join us, and let's move money for better
